Happy Teachers Day

SG 75 Many Faces, Many Races, One Singapore

Happy Teachers Day!

A toast to all Teachers and School Staff!

On 13 September 2023, Changkat Primary School celebrated Teachers Day in school.

This year, the Partners in Education (PIE) Club came up with a very creative and thoughtful idea to express parents' gratitude to CKPS teachers, educators, school leadership and school staff:

In line with our commitment to go green, parent volunteers sewed over 200 coasters out of 100% recycled school uniforms during craft workshop sessions in school and at home.

These handmade gifts are a token of appreciation and respect to all CKPS teachers and staff for their unwavering support and hard work to create a supportive, collaborative and inclusive learning environment for our children.

After a long day in school, we hope that they will always find time to sit down and relax with a cup of tea in the evening!

In addition, over 30 students practiced a Hip Hop and Bollywood dance with our volunteer choreographers Anisha Bhargava and Peng Ruodan. What a great show during the Teachers Day event at school!

SG75 is an annual competition which invites everyone to share ideas and a vision for a better Singapore and to help steer the direction in which we build our nation.

This year, the PIE Club participated in the competition and submitted a video entry with the support of The Circular Classroom. Our message: Climate Change affects all of us, irrespective of race, language or religion. If we do not find solutions to tackle Climate Change together, our closely knit social fabric might not withstand this challenge to our future.

Take a look at the full video! We did not make it among the shortlisted candidates, but are so proud of our work on sustainability!
